Howard Changes Stand On Road Through Monroe

Mayor W. L. (Jack) Howard said last night he had sent a telegram to State Highway Director R. B. Richardson advising him that he would not oppose the proposed route of the elevated highway through the Twin-Cities area.

Howard said thus far he had not received an answer from Richardson. But presumably the mayor's telegram in which he accepted the route proposed by state engineers and approved by federal authorities would give the green light for continuation of work on plans for the highway in this area.

Mayor Howard explained he sent the telegram to Richardson in view of the stands taken by Commissioners H. W. McSherry and W. D. H. Rodriguez.

Voiced Approval

Rodriguez had voiced his approval of the elevated route several weeks ago. And it was learned last night that McSherry stamped his approval at the meeting held in Baton Rouge Wednesday.

However, McSherry could not be reached for comment last night.

"In view of the stand taken by Commissioners Rodriguez and McSherry, I telegraphed my approval to afford a united front in Monroe," Mayor Howard said.

Howard and a delegation from this area discussed the plan for the highway in this area at the meeting with Richardson in Baton Rouge Wednesday.

Earlier, the mayor had said that full details of the plan were thoroughly discussed at the meeting. It was understood that Mayor Howard asked detailed answers to 19 questions.

It was also disclosed that detailed answers to the questions asked by the mayor at Baton Rouge concerning the highway would be forwarded to Monroe and made public.

Not Received

So far, Howard said he has not received them. Details of the Baton Rouge meeting were not available because of an "agreement" made between Howard and Richardson. Howard said he was not able to reveal the details as yet because of the agreement.

The Baton Rouge meeting was the climax of several weeks of conferences, talks and public meetings on the controversial subject of the elevated highway and its proposed location through the Twin-Cities area.

Mayor Howard had said he wanted to delay final approval of the proposed route until a complete study could be made to determine what route would fit best into the city's plans.

State engineers had said the elevated proposal was selected after an intensive study because it met the requirements best of the overall federal system.

Many members of the delegation who attended the Baton Rouge meeting with Howard said the discussion there "cleared the air" of many issues involved.

Richardson had said after the meeting that work on plans would be stalled until city officials had decided what they wanted.

House Approves Expansion Of Surplus Disposal

WASHINGTON, June 21 (UP)—The House today approved a $1,300,000,000 expansion of the farm surplus disposal program after upholding administration plans to sell 65 million dollars worth of surplus commodities to Communist Poland.

The House passed the bill by a 344 to 7 roll call vote. It previously had rejected 108 to 5 an amendment that would have blocked the Polish aid agreement aimed at strengthening Communist party boss Wladyslaw Gomulka in his dealings with Moscow.

4 Major Changes

However, the House made four major changes in the overall bill and sent it to a House-Senate conference committee to work out differences in House and Senate versions. The Senate passed it in the form requested by President Eisenhower.

The bill would extend the farm surplus disposal program for another year and authorize the administration to sell an additional one billion dollars worth of farm surpluses for foreign currency. Another 300 million dollars worth could be given to needy persons at home and abroad.

The United States has negotiated a 95 million dollar aid agreement with Poland in hopes of helping it remain somewhat independent of the Kremlin. It formally signed a pact on June 7 providing for about half the aid. Action on the rest had to wait for the House okay.

White House Help Asked For By Fargo

FARGO, N.D., June 21 (UP)—Fargo, a city of dead, injured and homeless, appealed to the White House tonight for help in fighting back from a tornado which killed 10 persons, 7 of them children.

Thursday night's black tornado killed six children in one family at the moment they telephoned their mother for help. A family of three, mother, father and daughter, was also wiped out.

At least 2,000 persons were homeless tonight and Mayor Herschel Lashkowitz estimated damage at between 25 and 50 million dollars.

North Dakota Gov. John Davis, acting on behalf of the 45,000 people of Fargo, made a personal telephone appeal to presidential assistant Sherman Adams in Washington for federal assistance.

The federal Small Business administration offered Fargo some assistance. Declaring it a disaster area along with one flood-stricken county in Nebraska and six in South Dakota. The action entitled home and business owners to apply to the administration for reconstruction or rehabilitation loans at 3 per cent interest.

New Tornado Warnings

Meanwhile, new tornado warnings were issued for the Fargo area. Forecasters said twisters could strike in parts of North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska, Missouri, and Kansas.

The tornadoes Wednesday night had also claimed an 11th victim.

Beautiful Girls, Peaches Are Festival Attractions

By RECA JASPER

State Editor

RUSTON (Special)—Girls as pretty as peaches and peaches as pretty as a picture were the big attraction here yesterday as the college town took on a festive air.

The two-day peach festival, held annually in recognition of peach growers of the parish, tastefully opened at 8:30 a.m. with peach cobbler contest at the Home Demonstration offices at the Court House.

Afternoon activities centered on displays of beauty—flower show at the Junior High School Auditorium and parade of the Queen Dixie Gem and Princess Peach contestants through the downtown streets.

Hundreds of Lincoln Parish residents and about a thousand people from surrounding parishes and towns with some out-of-state spectators lined the streets to watch the hour-long parade.

Truman To Hand Over Gifts To U.S. Government

WASHINGTON, June 21 (UP)—Former President Truman announced today he would turn over to the government between $250,000 and $500,000 worth of gifts he received while in the White House.

He said he decided to let the government have the presents because "if I hadn't been President I wouldn't have received them."

He disclosed his plans while testifying before a House Administration subcommittee in support of a bill to put the papers of 23 former presidents in better shape at the Library of Congress and to copy them all on microfilm.

Ready To Comment

Truman noted with a grin that he was "not here in my usual controversial capacity." But he was ready to comment on any and all controversies that reporters asked him about during his visit to the capitol.

As usual, the 73-year-old former President was early, arriving a half hour before the time for his testimony. While waiting, he chatted with old friends, greeted well-wishers, signed autographs and beamed happily about his recently-acquired grandfather status.

"That's the first thing I've ever been mixed up in where there wasn't any controversy," he told House doorkeeper William M. (Fishbait) Miller in discussing his grandson.

Jam Hearing Room

More than 100 lawmakers, newsmen and spectators jammed into the small hearing room to hear his comments on the historical importance of preserving presidential papers.

Truman did not elaborate on his plans for turning over his gifts to the government as well. It may be that they will be sent along with his own presidential papers to the Truman Memorial Library at Independence, Mo.

DOCTOR'S FEE

Anger Corrodes Humane Drama

MANORVILLE, N.Y., June 21 (UP)—Angry bitterness today corroded the great, humane drama of 6-year-old Benny Hooper's rescue from a Long Island well just five weeks ago. It extended all the way up to the United States Senate.

There was a controversy over a $1,500 bill presented to Benny's parents by Dr. Joseph H. Kris, who was credited with saving the boy's life. And there was resentment over the allocation of a hero's laurels among the men who dug Benny free after 23½ hours of living burial.

"Not one doctor in a thousand would have charged a fee," said Dr. Edwin S. Hamilton of Kankakee, Ill., chairman of the trustees of the American Medical Assn. "We strongly disagree with the action of the doctor in this case."

The president of Dr. Kris's own Suffolk County Medical Society, Dr. David J. Wexler, said the $1,500 fee "appears to be exorbitant."

On the floor of the Senate in Washington, Sen. William A. Purtell (R-Conn.) accused Dr. Kris of exacting "the last pound of flesh."

He suggested that Americans contribute to a fund to pay the doctor bill and added: "I am willing out of the outrage to my soul to subscribe the first $50 to such a fund."

Sen. John O. Pastore (D-R.I.) questioned whether Dr. Kris is entitled to collect a bill, especially if he volunteered his services in the rescue.

Dr. Kris has said he did not volunteer but was summoned to the scene by police. He stood his ground against the criticism, insisting that the bill was not exorbitant.

Dr. Kris estimated he put in 100 hours keeping Benny alive by feeding oxygen into the 24-foot well and treating the boy after his rescue.

Of Dr. Hamilton's statement for the AMA, Dr. Kris said: "The doctor is talking out of turn. He hasn't got all the information available yet. He's talking before he gets all the facts. Let him call me and we'll talk it over. I think he was very wrong in making such a statement before he gets all the facts."

He based the bill on reports that he had heard that Benny's parents had received considerable money in the aftermath of the boy's rescue. They said they didn't have anything like the fee Dr. Kris asked.

Dr. Kris suggested the whole matter of the bill can be threshed out in the Grievance Committee of the Suffolk County Medical Society. Dr. Philip J. Raffie, a spokesman for the county society, said

Warning To Go-Slow Seen From Korea

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The United States, deep in disarmament negotiations with Russia, is demonstrating in Korea a belief that the Communists are not to be trusted.

From Korea, the United States is flashing a go-slow warning on itself and other nations which are talking with the Russians in London.

With a timing which intrigued observers, the warning took the form of repudiation of the armaments section of the 1953 Korean armistice. The reason: "Flagrant and long-continued disregard by the Communists" of their obligations.

He was referring to Sam Woodson, a volunteer who pulled Benny to safety from the well. Woodson was greeted as a hero. But other volunteers claimed he was a Johnny-come-lately in the rescue operation and was less deserving of credit than other rescuers.

'Sha', Officer I'm Not Drunk

TYLER, Tex., June 21 (UP)—A policeman reported today that he arrested a man who was so drunk he thought Tyler was Dallas.

When the policeman stopped the drunk, who was weaving about in traffic, he said: "Officer, I live just three blocks from here in Oak Cliff."

The policeman took him to jail and, explaining that Dallas' Oak Cliff is considerably more than three blocks from Tyler, advised him that he would have to lock him up.

"Good, I haven't seen Bill Decker in quite a while," the drunk said.

The drunk still hasn't seen Decker, because Decker is sheriff in Dallas County and his jail is 100 miles from Tyler.

Contestant Misses Cross Word Puzzle Solution By One Word For Third Week

By BONANZA BILL

Mrs. Bertha Wilkison, Parker Road, Monroe, was close on the trail of the $75 award offered for solving this week's crossword puzzle, but missed the mark by only one word. This makes the third consecutive week in which she has missed the solution by one word.

The word that tripped her and many other contestants was REST which was No. 25 across. There were more than 10,000 entries recorded in the try for the big jackpot.

Next week's jackpot will be valued at $600.

Here are explanations of the more difficult clues to this week's puzzle solution:

CLUES ACROSS:
10. DAY NOT WAY. Since, "on an EXPEDITION," there "might well" not be any set WAY to "lose," DAY is more apt, PAY and SAY are remote for the clue words, "on an expedition."

11. TAXES NOT TALES. Some TALES simply ARE "FANTASTIC." There are no truly "fantastic" tales.

8 Okay Move

The decision to hear the appeals in the Girard case was reached by eight of the nine justices at their regular Friday conference, an executive session. Justice Douglas was absent, having begun his vacation last Monday. Court aides indicated it was uncertain whether he would return to participate in the case.

In announcing its action, the high court specified the four hours of argument be divided equally between the Justice Department's attorneys and the lawyers for the 21-year-old soldier.

U. S. Dist. Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy ruled last Tuesday that the government could not turn Girard over to Japanese authorities for trial. He held that Girard, an Army specialist third class, was on duty at the time of the shooting and that surrendering him to the Japanese would violate his constitutional rights.

The government appealed from this decision yesterday. In a decision approved by President Eisenhower, the government had decided previously to allow the Japanese to try the soldier.

Firm Belief

"We firmly believe that, despite the district court's ruling, respondent's—Girard's—case is totally without merit and that the Supreme Court can so decide promptly," the government said in its petition to the Supreme Court.

Distress Call From Vessel Tagged Hoax

NEW ORLEANS, June 21 (AP)—The Coast Guard today classified a distress call from the fishing vessel "El Rancho" as a false report after several hours search in the Gulf of Mexico.

A second fishing vessel sank off the Mississippi coast. A plane from Biloxi, Miss., and a patrol boat from Morgan City, La., went to the area off Louisiana after two weak radio signals came through the marine (ship to shore) telephone operator.

The last signal went off the air about 2 a.m. (CST) after a voice reported water had reached the vessel's batteries, the Coast Guard's search and rescue center here said.

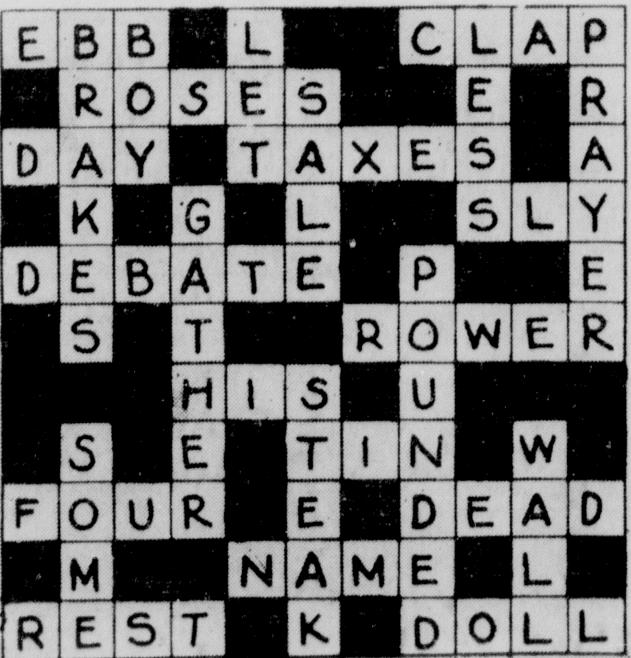

Fishing Off Galveston But the fishing vessel Goodwill reported it talked to the El Rancho off Galveston at 7:30 a.m. (CST) and the El Rancho was in no trouble. The family of Captain Joe Menard of the El Rancho said in Morgan City the craft was fishing off Galveston.

The fishing vessel American Leader sank in shallow water off Horn Island, between Biloxi and Pascagoula, Miss. A passing fishing craft picked up the crew and a Coast Guard cutter stood by while an attempt was made to pull the vessel into shallower water.

tie" TAXES, but "to some of them you," personally "might APPLY" that "epithet" TAKES is vague.

Other Words

13. SLY not SHY. Since a SHY "boy" keeps to himself, he definitely "WON'T" be very POPULAR (or UNPOPULAR either.) A SLY "boy" is not LIKELY to be very POPULAR, however.

14. DEBATE not REBATE. Both the words "popular opinion" and "unfair" favor DEBATE over REBATE. "Popular opinion" implies a collection of people and a DEBATE requires people, whereas, a REBATE can involve one person. "Unfair" seems an inapt description of refusing or not allowing a REBATE.

15. ROWER not POWER. "Arms" in the military usually refer to SMALL arms weapons of small caliber. For a "STRONG" POWER, its ARMA-MENT (including "arms") may well IMPRESS you. ROWER is most apt. Why the "arms of a strong" SOWER, in particular, over any other worker on the farm?

22. FOUR not YOUR. Note the placing of the apostrophe—the clue refers to weeks' pay (plural) not week's (singular). Thus YOUR (meaning one) does not really apply.

24. NAME not GAME. Putting "baseball" in quotes in the clue prompts its consideration as a WORD, rather than as the sport itself. Baseball is a GAME, and "baseball" is, of course, the NAME by which it is known. FAME, SAME and TAME are not apt.

Real Puzzle

25. REST not WEST. REST is the stronger answer and covers both cases. "Many people have seen little of the REST of America" and that INCLUDES the WEST. BEST is a matter of opinion.

26. DOLL not DULL. "Little BOY" favors DOLL, since DULL would also apply to "a little" GIRL.

CLUES DOWN:

2. BRAKES not BRACES. It will be practicable to supplement the BRACES (struts), etc. with additional ones, thus ADDING the necessary "strength." BRAKES, however, would "have to be replaced." BRAVES (brave persons) is poor.

4. LET not GET. The clue implies that the time to GET — LET "a man out of jail" is "when he HAS SERVED" his time, favoring LET. The question of GETTING him "out" ONLY arises "when he still has" time "to serve."

More Explanations

6. LESS not LOSS. There is no question of a "FLOURISHING" business "making" a LOSS at all. It may "make" LESS profit occasionally, but "you don't expect" it to do so "every year."

7. PRAYER not PRAYER. "Favorite" PRAYER, yes; but "a person has" (for instance) "a favorite" FOOTBALL PLAYER or BASEBALL PLAYER rather than simply "a favorite PLAYER."

15. POUNDED not ROUNDED. Such "rocks" are POUNDED by the "WAVES," specifically. They "have been" ROUNDED by erosive materials both in the atmosphere and in the water, not just the "waves" alone. HOUNDED is remote.

19. SOME not HOME. "If you run out of gasoline," you DEFINITELY WANT SOME. There may, on the other hand, be no question of wanting to "get" HOME, since you could be thousands of miles away on business or vacation.

21. WALL not BALL. The clue viewed the "PICTURES" as the source of "amusement," favoring WALL. If you give "a child" a BALL with the "pictures" on, the BALL is still the primary source of "amusement," probably to the exclusion of "pictures." The clue words "on it" do not fit HALL.

2 Model Plane Contests Here All-Day Sunday

Two model airplane contests in Monroe Sunday offer an excellent opportunity for aviation enthusiasts to enjoy a weekend of plane - watching.

Monroe's first Radio Control Air Derby is scheduled for Sunday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. at Selman Field.

Five states are to be represented in regional model airplane competition at Bernstein Park from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m., Sunday.

The two events are sanctioned by the Academy of Model Aeronautics.

Fifty - two trophies will go to winners of the regional airplane competition at Bernstein Park. From 50-75 contestants are scheduled to participate in the event sponsored by the Monroe Model Airplane Club.

a woman in South Dakota, 300 miles to the southwest of Fargo. In Fargo, at least 120 injured persons had received hospital treatment and 39 were still hospitalized, four of them in critical condition. They included the wife of one of the dead and a 7-month-old boy.

Lashkowitz, asked whether the city should be declared a disaster area, said "I don't know what else you can call it if it isn't a disaster."

Martial Law Set

Martial law was placed in the hands of 300 national guardsmen, including two engineer units complete with heavy equipment for cleaning up the devastated area called "Golden Valley."

Lashkowitz issued a plea to the townspeople to supply power plants and search lights so the massive cleanup operation could continue through the night.

The most pathetic victims of the tornado were six of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Munson.

Just as the twister swept down Golden Valley, the oldest of the children telephoned her mother, screaming "Mommie, it's hit us!"

Tried to Help

A neighbor, Mrs. C. W. Steed, had begged the children to drive to safety with her in her car.

"Why dear God, didn't they come along?" she mourned to-night. "How can I sleep knowing they would be alive if only I had insisted that they come?"

Other victims were Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Udahl, both about 50, and their daughter, Mary, about 6. Rescue workers found their bodies in their shattered home today.

Also recovered was the body of Don Tigen, 26. His wife was among the most critically injured.

300 Homes Destroyed

In the north and northwest Golden Valley area, the American Red Cross estimated at least 300 homes destroyed and 750 to 1,000 more damaged.

The most devastated areas of Fargo resembled a huge lumber camp late today.

The scream of power saws could be heard throughout the city, together with the smack of axes and the smell of sawdust. Guardsmen and volunteers were using every tool available, including tractors, bulldozers, and road scrapers, to cut and clear away the wrecked homes.

Guardsmen also threw a cordon around the worst-hit neighborhoods and demanded police-authorized passes from anyone trying to enter.

The six children of the Gerald Munson family died alone when the "long black arm" of the tornado crashed through Fargo shortly before 8 p. m.

In neighboring Moorhead, Minn., their mother answered a telephone call in the bar where she worked and heard the voice of her daughter, Phyllis, 16.

"Mommie, there's a storm coming at us," the girl screamed. "Mommie, it's hitting us," she said in the next breath.

Mrs. Munson rushed home through the ravaged streets and found her home had become a tomb.

The bodies of three of her eight children were in the tortured rubble. Three more died at a hospital.

The dead were Mary Beth Munson, 16 months, Lois Ann, 2 1/2 years, Jeanette, 3, Bradley, 10, Darwin, 12, and Patricia, 12. Her brother, LeRoy, 12, was safe visiting friends.

Saw Daughter's Picture

In Bismarck, N. D., Gerald Munson heard of the Fargo tornado by television. There was no way the father, a truck driver, could contact his family. He went to bed, sick with apprehension.

This morning he came downstairs at a hotel and picked up a newspaper. The face of his dead daughter, Jeanette, peered up at him from the front page.

A hotel clerk grabbed the newspaper from him as the father, his face tense and drawn, turned to face newsmen waiting in the lobby.

"Those are my children," he said thickly, and then burst into tears.

"Why did this happen to me?" the father sobbed. "I thought the world of those kids."

The newsmen and the hotel clerk didn't have the heart to tell Munson he had seen an early edition of the paper. It listed only three of his children dead. As he boarded a plane for Fargo, he still did not know the full extent of what had happened.

He found out when he met his wife at the Moorhead mortuary where his children lay.

Selwyn Loyd Given Divorce

LONDON, June 21 (UP) — A court today granted Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd a divorce from the pretty, young secretary he married six years ago after an office romance. He charged her with adultery.

Justice Sir Charles Collingwood gave Lloyd, 52, the custody of their 4-year-old daughter and ordered the "other man," Martin Lubbock, 32, a former Lloyds of London insurance man, to pay costs of the proceedings.

Mrs. Lloyd, 29, the former Elizabeth Marshall, offered no defense. They were married in 1951 after she had been his secretary for two years. They separated in 1955.

LEAVE FOR CONVENTION

Harold Hill of Monroe, newly elected District 8-L governor of the Lions Club of Louisiana, and Lion "Tex" Kilpatrick of West Monroe left last night to attend the Lions International convention in San Francisco. They will attempt to formulate plans that will lead to the construction of a crippled children's camp, where they could be given recreation during the summer months somewhere in Louisiana. Hill will be formally installed as District 8-L governor at the convention.

DRIVER CHARGED

A Monroe man was charged with reckless driving, and given a ticket for no driver's license and no car license by city police at 5:48 p.m. yesterday, after he ran into the rear of a car which was halted behind traffic waiting for a stop light. According to police, Jerald D. Osborn of Route 1, West Monroe, halted on Desiard street, 200 feet west of North 18th street, and iverly Allen Petty, of 718 Wood street, going in the same direction, failed to stop and hit the back of the Osborn car. Petty was ticketed. The back of the Osborn car and front of the Petty car were both damaged, but no one was injured.

Fishcakes Eaten By Ike And Forty Congressmen

WASHINGTON, June 21 (UP)—President Eisenhower ate fishcakes with 40 Republican congressmen and talked about the budget and trout fishing at a White House breakfast today.

It was the third informal breakfast meeting the President has held for GOP House members. This morning, as at the others, Eisenhower moved from table to table, engaging his guests in a variety of subjects, chiefly his legislative program.

In addition to fishcakes, the congressmen had bacon, eggs, toast, coffee and fruit juice.

Undisturbed

Rep. Ben F. Jensen (Iowa) reported later that the President "didn't seem to be disturbed at what Congress has done in reducing the budget." He said Eisenhower recognized the fact that it was the duty of members of Congress to exercise their judgment.

Even rock 'n' roll cropped up as table talk. Rep. Robert H. Michel (Ill.), who attended the Young Republican national convention Thursday night when Eisenhower spoke, said the President was "light of heart enough" to appreciate the rock 'n' roll band which played for the occasion.

Girl Disappears Again; But This Time With Mom

WASHINGTON, June 21 (UP)—Christina Wennerstrom, the runaway diplomat's daughter, disappeared again today but this time with her mother instead of her page boy sweetheart.

The mother, Mrs. Stig Wennerstrom, took Christina into hiding to avoid further publicity and booked passage on a Scandinavian Airline plane leaving New York for Stockholm tomorrow.

Huw Williams, 18, the boy they left behind them, vowed he would follow Christina to Sweden as soon as he had the money. But having lost his capitol job while he and the 16-year old girl were "honeymooning" in Canada, there was no telling when that would be.

Cancer Society Officers Retain Their Positions

Officers of the Ouachita Parish unit of the American Cancer Society have been re-elected.

They are Mrs. R. Fred Petty, president; Mrs. Frank Gordon, secretary; Robert Cowden, treasurer, and Irving Liebowitz vice-president.

Mrs. C. K. Crandall, chairman of education, reported at the meeting that educational films were shown 14 times during the first three quarters of the fiscal year to 500 members of various organizations.

Huw had only $5 in his pocket when he and Christina were arrested for speeding near Williamsport, Pa., yesterday.

Freshmen In Front Ranks At Northeast

Freshmen were in the front ranks Thursday night as Northeast students opened a series of out-door entertainments scheduled for the summer term and directed by Bobby Joe Oden.

Rating high on the list of features were the staging of stunts and talent and competition for the titles of prettiest freshmen coed and ugliest frosh boy. Dancing on the tennis courts rounded out an evening of informal fun for newcomers to the campus, seasoned students and a good sprinkling of alumni who still like 'o jitterbug.

Miss Joanne Ellerman, elementary major from Winnsboro, captured the prettiest coed title and another Winnsboro freshman, Bill McCraw, won the ugliest man crown. McCraw is stressing health and physical education in his studies.

First Place

Miss Jo Anne Fletcher, of Baskin, took first place for her talent when she captivated the audience for her interpretation of the Charleston, made more convincing by her costume of the 1920's.

Runners-up in the beauty contest were Miss Peggy Long of Rosco who won second place, and Miss Linda Crause, of Sicily Island who took third.

Capturing second place honors in the ugliest man competition was John McGough, of Natchez. Petite blond Joy Kennedy, of Farmerville, ran second in the talent display with her fancy baton twirling.

Two humorous skits were presented by dormitory girls. "Mary Had A Little Lamb" portrayed various interpretations given by girls ranging from kindergarten stage to an age of sophistication. The group who staged the performance were: Misses Jean Earle, Lake Providence; Linda Lord, Baskin; Mary Ellen Cole, Farmerville; Joanne Ellerman, Winnsboro; Pat Mott, Hebert; Betty Hughes, Lake Providence; and Molly Guinn, Kelly.

An old maid's national convention was demonstrated by: Misses Lou Antley, Rayville; Peggy Banton, Gilbert; Norma George, St. Joseph; Carolyn Jo Gallman, Rayville; Betty Jane McCartney, Bonita; Shirley Wigginton, Baskin; Jo Ann Craft, Kilbourne; Louise Mae Robbins, Delhi; and Jo Ann Hamilton, Kilbourne.

GETS REWARD—Bill McCraw wins a kiss from Joanne Ellerman, named prettiest freshman coed at Northeast State's summer school. Bill won the ugliest male frosh title in a contest at the first out-door college social event on the campus. Both are from Winnsboro. (Staff photo by John Fogleman)

The property, containing about 1,800 acres, is about midway between Baton Rouge and New Orleans on the Mississippi River, or about one mile north of Convent.

TWO MEN IN CUSTODY

$139,000 Melchior Robbery Solved Police Officers Say

HOLLYWOOD, June 21 (UP)—The Lauritz Melchior $139,000 robbery was solved today by police who announced they had two men in custody and were on the trail of two others.

Police who had been working around-the-clock on the case since four gunmen invaded the hilltop home of the Danish opera star Tuesday, terrorized the singer and members of his household and escaped with the huge amount of jewels, furs and $600 in cash.

Chief of Detectives Thad Brown said that $93,271 of the stolen valuables had been recovered.

Two In Custody

The two suspects in custody were identified as Robert Morgan, 39, an ex-convict, and Alfred J. Pope, 28. Still being sought as suspects were Richard McFall, 38, and a fourth man not named by police, Brown said.

"It's too good to be true," Melchior commented when informed that most of his jewels and valuables had been recovered.

Police said that a 20-man force of detectives and FBI agents "cracked" the case after receiving an anonymous tip that put them on the trail of the suspects.

Guns Found

Lt. Ed Jokisch of the police robbery squad reported that three guns believed to have been used in the holdup were found at Pope's residence.

Melchior, his wife and members of the household were tied up late Tuesday night with stocks and neckties by the bandits after they forced the singer and Mrs. Melchior to open three safes in which their collection of valuables was kept.

With the arrest of the quartet, the Melchior disclosed that the bandits actually had failed to find a $50,000 tiara that once belonged to the King of Denmark because it was in another hidden vault. The valuable historic jewel piece had originally been reported as missing also.

Research Center Site Selected

Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation has selected a site in West Monroe for construction of a half-million dollar research center.

Dr. D. C. Lea, research and development manager for the company's forest products division, who made the announcement, reported that construction is expected to begin within two months.

The building, in which research toward developing improved uses of pulp paper will be carried on is to be located approximately 350 feet east of the company's West Monroe paper mill, and front toward the Jonesboro highway.

Woman In Car Wreck Murdered Police Reveal

CONROE, Tex., June 21 (UP)—Police Chief Eddie Stephens said today that a 40-year-old woman whose body was removed from an automobile that turned over five times was murdered.

The woman was identified from a social security card as Catherine Nobles, 33 1-2 Spring St., Charleston, S. C. She was cut deeply enough by jagged glass to have been killed when the car turned over.

But a doctor who examined her told Stephens that the wounds didn't bleed, indicating she was dead three or four hours before the accident. Stephens sent the body to Houston for an autopsy.

Held On Suspicion

He held John Ellison, 39, an ex-convict four times over, who was driving the car, on suspicion of car theft. Ellison was not seriously hurt in the accident.

E. H. Smith, who owns a Houston service station at which Ellison worked up to two days ago, filed charges of car theft against Ellison. He said Ellison left to drive a customer's car home and never came back.

Howard Kerr, 36, of Big Spring, Tex., said Ellison gave him a ride today from Houston to Conroe. Kerr was hitchhiking home.

Kerr said a woman was sprawled on the back seat. Her purse was open and its contents scattered over the seat and floor. Kerr thought she looked dead, but Ellison said she was drunk and "sleeping it off."

Ellison was driving around 100 miles an hour, Kerr said, and it made him nervous. He asked Ellison to let him off in Conroe and he did. The car turned over a few minutes later.

Supreme Court Decision Feared

"The U.S. supreme court doubtless will be the final arbiter."

That statement was made by the Associated Press in reporting that an American judge had ruled that to allow GI William S. Girard to be tried by Japanese authorities on a charge of manslaughter would violate Girard's constitutional rights.

People of the United States have come to fear decisions by the U.S. supreme court. They fear them because they no longer have confidence that this court will render a just decision in accordance with the intent of the constitution. They fear that the supreme court in Girard's case will ignore the GI's constitutional rights and will base its decision on "expediency," on personal prejudice and on its own arbitrary and unfounded conceptions rather than on an interpretation of the constitution and of justice.

They fear any decision by the U.S. supreme court because their confidence in this court has been shaken to its foundations.

They have seen this court free convicted Communists; they have heard it declare that talk by communists of overthrowing the American government by force is not a violation of the law. They have seen this supreme court open the confidential files of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to attorneys for Communists, thus forcing the F.B.I. to disclose its confidential sources of information and to make its investigations of Communist activities extremely difficult.

They have seen the supreme court establish a whole set of new laws never contemplated by congress or by the people.

They have seen the supreme court invade private property in order to render a far-fetched and arbitrary decision in favor of members of the Negro race. They have seen the supreme court violate the concepts of the American constitution.

They have seen this supreme court make arbitrary decision after arbitrary decision in favor of Communists and in favor of Negroes when no basis for such decisions existed under the concept of the American constitution.

No wonder the people are afraid when they hear that the supreme court is to be the final arbiter in deciding whether an American citizen, who was on duty in an American army camp, is to be turned over to a foreign power for trial simply because some of the leaders of this nation are afraid of offending the leaders of a country which did its best to destroy the United States and was defeated by our soldiers in its attempt to do that.

They know that the chances are that the supreme court will place this American soldier on the sacrificial altar and that it will deny him his constitutional right of an American trial.

It is no wonder that the American people are alarmed by the supreme court's assumption of law-making power and it is no wonder that members of the American congress are joining with United States citizens in this alarm.

Reliving Civil War

The Civil War Centennial is four years away but already the preparations are commencing.

Congress is talking of appropriating $100,000 for a Civil War Centennial Commission to "promote and stimulate observances and memorial programs, pageants and other events" at historic sites of the War Between the States.

The Park Service is planning a major renovation program to get the 34 parks, monuments and cemeteries connected with the Civil War ready for the anti-ipated crush of tourists during the centennial years of 1961-65.

Centennial programs are already being planned at such battle sites as Shiloh in Tennessee in April, 1962, and Gettysburg in July, 1963.

There is also talk of capping the whole centennial in April, 1965, by holding another Grand Parade up Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D.C.—but this time with Southern participants in what would be designed as a great final demonstration that this is "one nation indivisible."

Ghastly Murder Figures

In a recent speech Mao Tse-tung, dictator of Red China, estimated 800,000 Chinese had been executed in a campaign to club communist "sense" into people whose customs and morals were unwilling to receive it.

Now comes the Nationalist Chinese estimate from Formosa that 20 million Chinese have died in the Red China purges on the mainland. Probably the truth falls somewhere between the two figures. Americans know Red Chinese brutality as a result of this country's Korean experience. Naturally the reds, now attempting to win world acceptance, would minimize the ghastly figure to lessen world shock.

This reprehensible political murder, a fixture with communism, accents the fierce barbarism of the engineers of world revolution. Against it the United States, with varying degrees of help from other free nations, is pitting its strength.

While Mao is now talking moderation, in the same breath he says China's population must be stabilized at 600 million. To enforce the population dictum, the reds would have to perpetrate their purges on an even more revolting scale.

GEORGE SOKOLSKY'S DAYS

Girard Is Admittedly Handed Over To Japanese For Political Reasons

There is no status of forces treaty with Japan. There is such a treaty with the countries which are members of NATO, but when that treaty was confirmed by the Senate, two reservations were stipulated. One, that an American soldier's constitutional rights should not be diminished and the other that the status of forces treaty with NATO countries should not serve as a precedent for agreements with other countries.

In the case of William S. Girard, this is an important issue which has to be taken to the courts, as it has been, by his counsel, Earl J. Carroll. Here is an American citizen who is entitled to be tried by an American military court but who is being handed over by our government to a Japanese criminal court and is being forced to accept a Japanese lawyer, not of his choosing, and it is all being admittedly done by the Department of Defense, for political reasons which are independent of the facts in his law or the laws of the United States or the laws of nations.

The Department of Defense bases its case on Article III of the Security Treaty with Japan, signed September 8, 1951. That treaty granted the United States the right to maintain armed forces in Japan. Article III reads:

"The conditions which shall govern the disposition of Armed Forces of the United States of America in and about Japan shall be determined by Administrative Agreement between the two governments."

The word that is the cause of the argument is "disposition." About such a word, diplomats can debate forever, although there are plenty of dictionaries to tell them what it means. Earl Johnson and Dean Rusk on February 28, 1952, signed an administrative agreement with the Japanese which proposes that the United States sign an agreement with Japan similar to the NATO status of forces treaty. It is a proposal, not a fact. Furthermore, such an agreement would have been an evasion of the constitutional authority of the President and the Senate. It was something that the Japanese wanted to give them face but which our government at the time dared not submit to the test of public opinion and senatorial ratification.

So, a protocol was drawn up, signed by John M. Allison, United States ambassador to Japan, on September 29, 1953. A protocol is really a work paper, a document used as preliminary to the opening of diplomatic transactions. Allison's protocol relinquishes civilian and certain American military personnel to the Japanese government. This document has been a hush-hush affair, never submitted to the Senate as a treaty and surely cannot constitutionally be binding upon the United States. As far as the protocol affects Girard, this is the wording:

"(A) The Military authorities of the United States shall have the primary right to exercise jurisdiction over members of the United States Armed Forces or the civilian component in relation to any offenses arising out of any act or omission done in the performance of official duty." I. has been admitted by the government of the United States that Girard was engaged in the performance of his duty when he killed Mrs. Sakai.

On September 29, 1953, Ambassador John M. Allison signed another document. This one was entitled, "Agreed Official Minutes Regarding Protocol to Amend Article XVII of the Administrative Agreement Between the United States of America and Japan." What the value of "Agreed Official Minutes" is, in international relations, only Allison can know. There is no such technical terminology in law. Undoubtedly this was an attempt to clarify a confusion of diplomatic origin by establishing a two man commission to decide what all the previous documents mean.

Finally the two man commission, an American and a Japanese military man, composed a document entitled, "Agreed Views," which are only the agreed views of these two men, as they were never included in a treaty ratified by the Senate, according to the Constitution. Thereby the Constitution is altogether bypassed, and what it all comes to is that the liberty and life of an American soldier in Japan are no longer safeguarded by the Constitution. In fact, both the Japanese and the American governments admit that Girard is a victim of a political situation and that justice and law are not at issue. That was the way the American government case was presented to a Senate committee and to a court in Washington.

Congressmen Propose Compulsory Debt Reduction With Some Safety Valves

Because mere wishing won't reduce the 275 billion dollar federal debt the U.S. is now carrying and because sporadic efforts by Congress have not had much effect, a systematic plan has been offered by several senators, proposing a compulsory debt reduction, with necessary safety valves.

The Saltonstall plan, offered by Senator Leverett Saltonstall (Rep.-Mass.) and supported by Senator Harry F. Byrd (Dem.-Va.) would, by July 1, 1961, when the reduction of a free would increase to 5 per cent and remain there indefinitely. That would be a Spartan undertaking, requiring cooperation by both executive and legislative branches of the government. But once in effect, those who think they know the American character are convinced it would be adhered to until the debt were reduced to a point where the existing threat to the financial stability of the U.S. would have been removed.

Some fiscal specialists have pointed out that had such a bill been enacted in 1951, the debt today would not be 275 billion but 260.6 billion, while the interest on debt would not be 7.4 billion but less than 7 billion, a reduction of half a billion, which would be available for public expenditures.

It has also been pointed out that the direct federal debt is equivalent to the full assessed value of all the land, all the buildings, machinery, livestock, and everything of tangible value in the U.S. In addition to direct debt of 275 billions, the federal government has accumulated contingent liabilities of at least 250 billions. These are obligations the federal government has guaranteed and assumed, such as the 40 billion in federal housing programs.

Forty state constitutions require either constitutional amendments or a public mandate to authorize debts beyond certain specified limits. Limitations imposed on officials in incurring public debts are a usual provision of state constitutions and local charters. The British system of fiscal control provides that no expenditure measure can be enacted in peacetime without a corresponding revenue provision. That would be too drastic for the U.S.

The lowering debt ceiling would postpone a general tax cut for some time to come, but taxes are also due for some overhauling, if reports from the subcommittee of the House Ways and Means Committee, headed by Rep. Wilbur Mills (Dem.-Ark.) are correct. The progressive debt reduction, its sponsors believe would be the greatest check on inflation which could be evolved at this time. It would have a stabilizing influence, they believe, which would extend to the entire economy.

If the debt ceiling at a stationary level has acted as a check on federal spending, the gradual reduction of federal debt, as Saltonstall and a number of others reason, would serve to reduce all spending, without the frantic efforts to cut appropriations seen recently in the House.

"For the security of our nation, it is as necessary to be prepared with national economic stability as it is with intercontinental weapons," Saltonstall observed in presenting his bill before the Senate Finance Committee.

To comply with constitutional provisions, the reduction in debt ceiling would require an appropriation of funds equal in amount to the prescribed percentage of net annual revenue. This amount would be one of the fixed sums appropriated, just as the interest on debt must now be set aside to maintain the government's credit. But instead of being spent for interest, it would be used to retire a portion of the government's bonded indebtedness.

It won't be popular with Congress, nor possible with some taxpayers who just can't imagine the government ever being in financial trouble. But it can help avert the two present dangers of a reduction in value of the dollar, and a big bust after the boom.

The Country Parson

"I'm vain enough to enjoy compliments — but I'd rather you'd understand me than admire me."

DR. CRANE SAYS

Dr. Goff Shows Evils Of Communism Among Clerics

Dr. Goff shows the evils of Communism among clerics! Why do our American churches thrive so well? Why is Uncle Sam so wealthy that he has become the Santa Claus of the world? It isn't primarily our greater supply of natural resources but our "Free Enterprise" philosophy! And Jesus believed in it, too!

Case V-38: Dr. Charles Ray Goff, aged about 58, is the famous pastor of Chicago's skyscraper church in the heart of the LOOP.

After I had finished teaching my Bible Class there, following his sermon, he and I went downstairs to the church dining hall where we had Sunday dinner.

Three cattlemen from Australia were present that day and we had a very pleasant visit with them. Since Dr. Goff had recently toured their country, he commented on the very hospitable nature of Australians and the fine churches over there.

"But I have one objection to Australian churches," he added. "Your clergymen are hampered in being held to a common salary."

"This discourages good men, they do not receive any greater pay than the inferior clergy."

"In America, however, we have a varying salary scale. So our clergy are stimulated to make more interesting sermons."

Communism In Pulpits
This idea of leveling off the more talented by tying them to the mediocre, is a communistic doctrine.

It certainly doesn't belong in a "Free Enterprise" system like ours, though I have previously mentioned that many of our public schools have been seduced by this communistic doctrine in the past 25 years and thus refuse to give superior pupils any higher grades than the sluggish.

Even in the pulpits, too, you can likewise see the disastrous effects because they wish to elevate the idealism of people.

Yet they are indirectly hamstringing in Australia when they find that they must all receive the same salary.

Christian Communism
In the early days of the Christian church, Communism was tried. And you may recall that Peter, found it failed to work when Ananias and Sapphira refused to cooperate.

Financial Bafflegab Is Being Flung Far And Wide

In all history, never has there been so much public debate over the intricacies of government finance as today. The U. S. Government market, the discount rate, the prime rate, monetary policy, tight money — you would n't have heard words like these outside of a limited group of experts until a short while ago.

Today, though, financial bafflegab is being slung all over the place as Senators learnedly pontificate about trends in interest rates and commentators earnestly try to interpret what is going on. But the bafflegab of government finance is rough stuff. Senators complain about rising interest rates on new U. S. bonds when they don't mean "bonds" at all. Reporters write about the Treasury's "tight" money policy when it actually isn't the Treasury's policy at all.

In this column and tomorrow's, therefore, I'm submitting a little "dictionary" to help you get around the labyrinth of phraseology without stumbling. Clip and save this "dictionary"; you'll find it useful.

THE U. S. GOVERNMENT MARKET.

This is the greatest, biggest securities market in the world — a market in which billions of dollars of the marketable securities of the U. S. Treasury change hands on any ordinary business day. While many U. S. securities are listed on the New York Stock Exchange, this is not where the trading takes place; the real government market is over - the - counter and is dominated by a handful of major dealers and a few large banks.

There are several types of U. S. Government marketable securities — a fact which is not generally realized. There are:

U. S. Treasury Bonds. These, by accepted definition, are securities that, when sold, have a maturity of more than five years. A bond with a maturity of from five to ten years is called a medium-term bond with a maturity of over 10 years is called a long-term. During the entire Eisenhower Administration, the Treasury has sold only $4.3 billion of long-term bonds. It hasn't sold a single one since July of 1955, when it put out a small amount of 3 per cent bonds due in 1965. These 3s have now plunged more than 10 points below their issue price of par. (Par means 100.)

Despite the early Christians' personal contact with Jesus and even under the leadership of Peter, Communism still could not succeed.

So it obviously cannot be a success in any less Christian environment, and especially in Russia with its atheistic outlook.

And the present Australian system of communizing the salary of the clergy, is fettering their effectiveness.

Despite the pantywaists who abhor rivalry and American competition, there is no gainsaying that our competitive society gives more incentive to farmers and manufacturers, doctors and clergymen.

Progress is stifled and people grow indolent under a system that deprives the better worker of a greater reward than the sluggard.

Even athletics would lose its zest if two rival teams always had to settle for a tie score, though one outplayed the other in a ratio of 3 to 1.

In Russia, if it operated on the true communistic system, all their ball teams should add their combined scores and then divide equally!

Jesus Likes "Free Enterprise"
The people who praise Communism and abhor our competitive society should read their Bibles more closely, as Luke 19: 16-19.

Then they'd see that Christ believed in specific numerical school marks and varying rates of pay.

For Jesus says the servant who ran a one-pound investment up to 10 pounds thus was given 10 cities to rule. But the man who raises his one-pound grubstake to 5 pounds, was made chief over only 5 cities.

Please notice that these men weren't given the same numerical reward! They were paid off on the basis of their different degrees of success, which is our American "Free Enterprise" philosophy.

Isn't our greater natural resources but that fertile philosophy which has made us run circles around Russia, as well as England and France!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long three-cent stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Daily Bible Devotionals

Go, stand and speak in the temple to the people all the words of life. — Acts 5:30.

The Disciples were in prison but the angel of the Lord released them and spoke the words of the verse printed above. How does this apply to ordinary lay workers who are not teachers and rarely have an active part in religious matters? No matter how small our talents or how ineffective our speech, we can at least demonstrate our allegiance and faith by regularly attending religious services. Surely this is minimum service to God.

Gracious Father, help us to show our loyalty to Thy cause and be a willing witness to our faith. In Christ's name we pray. Amen.

U.S. To Reduce Forces In Japan

The joint intention of Japan and the United States to continue their cooperative efforts to keep the peace in Asia.

The United States now has about one and one-half divisions of Army and Marine combat ground troops in Japan, plus several thousand support troops, headquarters and supporting forces.

Kishi's statement, their withdrawal before the communists was issued by a National Press Club audience that Japan's Army was nearing the point when it could handle the island nation's ground defenses.

In his address, Kishi said he and Eisenhower had reached a "meeting of the minds" on "placing relations between our countries on a broader and firmer basis."

Disarmament Senate Group Is Requested

WASHINGTON, June 21 (UP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles asked Senate leaders today to appoint a group of senators to keep in close touch with disarmament developments at London. He said however it would be premature for them to join the U.S. delegation here now.

The statements were made in letters to Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson (Tex.) and GOP leader William F. Knowland (Calif.) when Dulles suggested last week that senators be designated to attend the London conference. Johnson voiced some doubts.

Dulles told Johnson "I want to make it quite clear that I have never felt there was a 'divergence' between them on the issue. Johnson told the Senate he would name Democratic members of the disarmament group soon. Knowland was not present for comment.

July 8th Set As Date For Court Session

Japan, the government argued, "the right to exercise primary jurisdiction in particular cases is a right of the United States, not of the individual soldier."

"Unfolding and unmeasurable damage to the foreign relations of the United States will inevitably result if its hands are tied by the type of judicial intervention which this respondent seeks," the Justice Department petition stated.

Girard's attorneys filed a "cross appeal" today, supporting Judge McGarragh's decision but contending it did not go far enough. They said they believed a writ of habeas corpus should have been issued, rather than an injunction, so that Girard could be brought back to this country.

Girard is now restricted to his Army post, Camp Whittington, in Japan. His home is in Ottawa, Ill.

Girard was on guard duty on a firing range when he fired an empty cartridge casing from a grenade launcher and killed the Japanese woman, Naka Sakai. The woman was scavenging for empty cartridge cases on the range. Girard claim her death was accidental, that he only meant to frighten her. The Japanese contend he was engaging in a prank.

Rounds Up 2,000 Dates

MILWAUKEE, June 21 (UP)—Secretary Elizabeth Anderson, 21, was busy today rounding up 2,000 girls for a party. She hoped to have the girls ready and waiting for a big blow-out Monday, when more than 6,000 young men arrive for the U. S. junior Chamber of Commerce convention.

Grand champion was Miss Neas for the second consecutive year.

Gas Rates Increases Are Sought

United Gas Corporation has filed an amended application for specific rate increases, affecting West Monroe, suburban Monroe and four other Northeast Louisiana towns, to be considered here at a three-day hearing of the Public Service Commission, it has been learned.

In addition to the rates asked for by United Gas, the Commission announced that a "discussion" with representatives of the Louisiana Hotel Association would be included in the hearings.

It was learned also that the Sicily Island Gas Co. has asked for a rate increase. Its application did not specify any amount.

The hearings will be held here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and will include a request by Missouri Pacific to take two passenger trains off the line from Arkansas to Alexandria.

Rates Sought

The domestic rates being asked for by United Gas are as follows: $1.15 per month per 1,000 cubic feet, minimum; 40 cents per 1,000 for the next 4,000 cubic feet; 50 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for the next 25,000 cubic feet; and 40 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for all over that amount.

Provided the rates were granted, it would affect West Monroe and all those users outside West Monroe and Monroe who are served off the distribution system.

Towns Affected

The towns affected by this request include Calhoun, Eros, Oak Ridge, and Quitman, in addition to West Monroe and suburban Monroe.

Other North Louisiana towns are Bienville, Calvin, Castor, Dodson, Gloster, Goldonna, Hall Summit, Keatchie, Lisbon, Longstreet, and Weston.

It was learned yesterday that Tony Spatafora, president of the Louisiana Hotel Association, of New Orleans will be present at the hearing on Wednesday.

The Public Service Commission has asked for a consideration of the 20-cent telephone rate now being charged in some Louisiana hotels.

year. Mrs. Pylant was reserve champion.

Winners in the orchard contest were one to three years old orchards, W. H. Sumrall of Ruston; four to six years old, Elmer Holis, of Cooktown; seven and over, F. E. Borland, of Simsboro.

Grand champion was Sumrall. Reserve champion was Borland. Peach display winners were 20 pack Dixie Gems, Ed Mitcham of Ruston; Southland, W. H. Sumrall, Ruston; Southern Glows, R. J. Duddy of Ruston; Red Havens, A. B. Larence, Hilly; Redcaps, W. H. Sumrall, Ruston. Grand champion in the packs of 20 was Mitcham, with reserve champion being Sumrall.

Winners in packs of nine Redcap, W. H. Sumrall, Ruston; Dixie Gems, W. H. Sumrall, Ruston; Red Havens, Larence, Hilly; Trigems, H. S. Bingham, Ruston; and Southland, W. H. Sumrall, of Ruston. Grand champion in this division was W. H. Sumrall who was also reserve champion.

Queens Presented

The peach display opened at 1 p.m. in the Raymond Heard grocery warehouse and remained open until 6 p.m.

The 20 candidates for the title of Queen Dixie Gem VII and the 18 candidates for the title of Princess Peach VII were presented at the Peach Festival stage show at Howard Auditorium Friday night. The show featured Werly Fairburn and his group from the Louisiana Hayride, Zany Blany with his comedy antics and his inimitable manner of serving as master of ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the show, the winners of the peach orchard, peach display and peach cobbler contests were introduced and presentations made.

The peaches and posies display will be opened to the public again at 9:30 a.m. Saturday and will remain open until 6 p.m.

At noon Saturday the annual Peach Festival luncheon for the visiting queens, candidates and other dignitaries will take place at Ruston Country Club.

At 3 p.m. the peach eating contest will be staged in Railroad Park.

Climaxing the two-day event will be the program in the new Memorial Gymnasium at Louisiana Tech starting at 7:30 p.m. First on the program will be the presentation of Miss Lindsey and the visiting royalty, followed by the introduction of the candidates. The judges will then select the queen.

Dr. R. L. Ropp, president of Louisiana Tech, will crown the Queen, and Nicol, president of the Louisiana Peach Festival, will crown Princess Peach.

The annual coronation ball will start afterwards.

St. John Lodge Sets State Meet

The St. John Grand Lodge A. F. and A. M., for the State of Louisiana, a Negro organization, will convene in Baton Rouge Sunday with a large delegation from the Monroe branch attending.

Zeke Hicks, commanding chief of the Monroe organization reports that there are 65 members in the local Lodge.

The four-day session will include a parade through the city, a public scholarship program, memorial service, banquet and queen pageant.

Reporter Uses 5th Amendment At Hearing

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21 (UP)—A San Francisco newspaper reporter, identified as a former member of a Communist cell within the newspaper guild, today invoked the Fifth Amendment before the House un-American activities subcommittee.

The witness, Jack Eshleman, 43, of the San Francisco Examiner, told the subcommittee he was "not now a member of the Communist party, nor in sympathy with it."

He refused to answer questions about his past political sympathies and associates and said he answered even the innocuous questions under protest because the subcommittee was "illegally constituted." He said House rules required committeemen of both parties be present at such hearings.

Chairman Departs

Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) departed for his home state last night, leaving the two Republican members, Gordon Scherer of Ohio and Robert J. MacIntosh of Michigan, to conclude the hearing today.

Eshleman had been identified Wednesday by college professor Dr. Jack Patten as a member of the "guild club" of the Communist party here in the 1940s.

Walter left the hearing late Thursday after a headlong clash with House Speaker Sam Rayburn over the televising of the local proceedings. Rayburn called it a violation of House rules, but the Pennsylvania Democrat defied a direct order from Rayburn to cease the television show.

The television cameras were still grinding today and the two Republican members shrugged off the Rayburn-Walter clash as "a fight among the Democratic leaders."

has served in this capacity on trains from Vicksburg to Shreveport ever since.

His wife was formerly Miss Josie Bridges, but she died years ago. They were the parents of one son, James J. Cuthbert Jr., who is now executive vice-president of the First National bank in Rayville.

Conductor Cuthbert has many interesting experiences to relate, especially concerning the great flood of 1927 when trains ceased for days to run between Shreveport and Vicksburg.

For 31 years Cuthbert has maintained a 100 per cent safety record for men under his supervision.

Asked as to a retirement, he declared he had no thought as yet of stepping down and out, but he does plan an extended vacation which will start on June 25.

Court Prevents Certifying Of Gueydan Returns

BATON ROUGE, June 21 (UP)—A court order today prevented Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr. from certifying returns in the June 11 Gueydan mayor's election.

Rene C. Breaux of the Vermilion Parish town obtained a temporary restraining order from District Judge Jess Johnson, claiming poll commissioners at two precincts "illegally, irregularly and erroneously counted or failed to count and/or marked as spoiled ballots or failed to mark as spoiled ballots certain absentee and/or military ballots and votes cast for the participants."

Sets Hearing

The judge set a hearing July 1 on a permanent injunction. Breaux lost his bid for election by one vote. He had 326 to 327 for E. W. Stebbins, one of his two opponents.

"There is no dispute with the tabulation on the mechanical voting machines themselves," the petition said, "but nevertheless the mistakes, returns and tabulations of the absentee and/or military ballots cast in the election have changed the outcome of the election."

Breaux claimed five absentee and/or military ballots that should have been ruled out as "defaced and spoiled" were counted, four for Stebbins and two for Breaux. He further contends two such ballots cast for him were ruled out that should have been counted.

The suit lists 25 plaintiffs and five defendants, all election officials, in addition to the secretary of state and Stebbins.

Walker Cup Players Win In Trans-Miss. Tourney

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, June 21 (UP)—Defending champion Charlie Coe and his Walker Cup teammate, Rex Baxter Jr., forged into the quarterfinals of the 54th annual Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament today, Baxter making it with ease, but Coe having to battle for his berth.

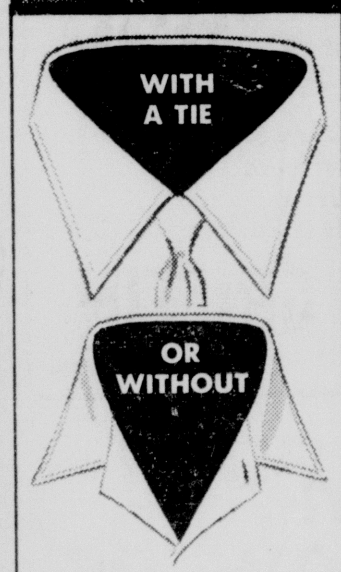

The 21-year-old Baxter, an Amarillo, Tex., product playing out of the University of Houston, was two under par in knocking out George Toms, former Duke star from Durham, N. C., while Coe was one over regulation figures as he eliminated Baxter's Houston teammate, Jim Hickey of Pocatello, Idaho, 2 and 1.

Both Coe and Baxter are veterans of Trans-Miss. play, but the six other survivors are appearing in their first Trans-Miss. tourney. They were Cy Northrop of Owatonna, Minn., and Lamar Tech, John Zibnick, Denver, Colo., school teacher, Frank (Buzz) Garvin, a Denver schoolboy, Jerry Pittman of Tulsa, Okla., and Southern Methodist, Frank Wharton of Dallas and Bob Pratt of Seattle, Wash., both members of the NCAA championship team from Houston.

Northrop, 20, knocked out Jim Vickers of Wichita, Kan., 4 and 3, Zibnick, 29, ousted Bob Willits of Kansas City, Mo., in 21 holes, Pittman, 20, defeated Jacky Cupit of Greggton, Tex., and a Houston freshman, 2 and 1, Garvin, an 18-year-old all-state basketball player, downed Dick Whetzel of Dallas and North Texas State, 1 up, Pratt knocked over Rocky Thompson, Wichita Falls, Tex., in 21 holes and Wharton defeated Dick Norville of Oklahoma City, 3 and 2.

Saturday, Coe meets Northrop, Zibnick plays Garvin, Baxter meets Pratt and Pittman faces Wharton in the morning quarterfinals. The 18-hole semifinals are scheduled in the afternoon and the 36-hole finals Sunday.

Bolt, Simpson Handed Fines For Tempers

FLINT, Mich., June 21 (UP)—Bob Rosburg still held on to his magic touch with a putter today and outdrove partner Mike Sou-chak consistently to take a four-stroke lead in the $37,000 Flint Open.

Rosburg needed only 27 putts today in carding a two-under par 69 to go with yesterday's 65 for a 36-hole total of 134.

The stocky bespectacled 31-year-old Californian stayed cool despite a stiff afternoon breeze. He dropped in three birdie putts, two six-footers and a three-footer, and for the second straight day chipped in a 40-footer for a birdie.

But tempestuous Tommy Bolt, Los Angeles, and Jim Simpson, Grenada Hills, Calif., didn't stay as cool as the wind. Bolt drew his second $100 fine of the tour for breaking his No. 4 wood on the ninth hole after hooking his shot. He still made par on the hole.

Simpson drew a $100 fine for a similar offense. Bolt stands to lose $500 the next time he breaks a club, according to a Professional Golfers Association spokesman.

Rosburg, from San Francisco, is using a putter he acquired at the Rubber City Open in Akron two weeks ago.

"And it sure has been a lifesaver," Rosburg said. "But the chip shots haven't hurt either."

Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa.; Al Balding, Islington, Ont.; Johnny Pott, Louisiana State University; and Stan Leonard, Lachute, Ont., all tied for second with 67's at the end of the first round yesterday, slipped in today's play.

Balding dropped to a seven-way tie for third with a 73 and Pott and Palmer carded 73's to fall into an eight-man deadlock for fourth.

Ken Ventura, San Francisco; Paul Harney, Bolton, Mass.; and Don Witt, Alameda, Calif., wound up with two-day totals of 139, four strokes behind Rosburg.

Palmer, golf's No. 2 money winner on the present tour, complained of a sore throat today and had a doctor examine him at the end of the front nine. But he went on to record a brilliant 64 for the 18 holes.

Flint's Doug Blom paced the amateurs with a 68 today added to his 76 yesterday for a 143.

The low 90 and amateurs continue play Saturday. Bob Toski, Miami, and Wally Burkemo, Franklin Hills, Mich., were among the pros clipped off at the 149 mark.

1ST WIN IN 17

Stobbs Wins One; Beats Cleveland

WASHINGTON, June 21 (UP)—Southpaw Chuck Stobbs of Washington, aided by morale-boosting fans who brought every conceivable kind of good-luck charm to the park, snapped his 16-game losing streak tonight by beating the Cleveland Indians, 6-3.

Stobbs' victory was his first of the season after 11 straight losses and also his first in 17 games since he defeated the Baltimore Orioles, 2-0, last Sept. 5.

The Senator left-hander was spurred on to victory by 9,462 fans who brought four-leaf clovers, amulets, voodoo drums and numerous other good luck tokens to the game. Club officials also did their part by giving a rabbit's foot to the first 1,000 patrons.

Stobbs, who hurled a seven-hit, no-run, no-error performance, was mobbed by teammates

Rory Calhoun Fights Draw With Giambra

SYRACUSE, N. Y., June 21 (UP)—Sure-footed Joey Giambra, a joltin' counter puncher, and eager Rory Calhoun fought a furious draw tonight in their nationally televised 10-round middleweight bout.

Only Giambra's clever counter punching and a new-found right hook kept the hard-punching Calhoun from making short work of Giambra from the seventh round on.

Calhoun had Giambra glassy-eyed in the seventh with a right hook to the head. During the next two rounds, there was much wrestling, but Joey came back in the 10th with an offensive that left his opponent bewildered.

Depended On Footwork
Giambra, a Buffalo, N. Y., native now fighting out of San Francisco, depended on his footwork and his right to ward off the rushes of Calhoun, of White Plains, N. Y.

Referee Ruby Goldstein voted 5-4-1 for Calhoun while Judge Dick Gamboli gave the same margin to Giambra. Judge Frank Forbes gave each four rounds with two even. The United Press card gave it to Giambra, 5-4-1.

The decision was unusual in this state which has a supplemental point system in case of draws. However, Forbes scored it five points for each.

Giambra, a slight favorite going into the fight, weighed 157 3/4. Calhoun weighed 159.

Officials Agreed
The officials agreed Calhoun won the first, seventh and eighth rounds. They were unanimous in giving Giambra the third, fourth and tenth rounds.

"He's the strongest man I've ever fought," said Giambra, who had a large mouse over his right eye.

Calhoun suffered a cut over his left brow in the fifth round. The draw broke Giambra's winning streak at nine straight. It was the first draw of Calhoun's career and only the second for Giambra.

Five writers at ringside favored Calhoun and four gave the nod to Giambra. One writer scored it a draw.

Before you're tempted to buy that "BARGAIN" power mower

WHAT ABOUT QUALITY?

These mowers are not to be confused with inferior, unknown makes specially built as promotional models made to sell in stores which are not normally considered logical power mower outlets. They're all 1957 models—not last year's leftovers.

WHAT ABOUT SERVICE?

Now you don't go to a perfume counter to buy a monkey wrench. Before you buy any power mower, insist on seeing the service department—if there is one. Service farmed out to someone else is rarely satisfactory. We guarantee that our brands are backed by the most complete parts dept. and the finest service facilities that can be found anywhere. You can't afford to ignore the service angle in choosing your mower.

BUY YOUR POWER MOWER FROM EXPERTS IN THE BUSINESS.

WHAT ABOUT WARRANTY?

WE POSITIVELY DO NOT warrant any power mowers except our own brands.

Virgil Trucks of the Kansas City Athletics kept the 1957 season with his fourth American League team and 147 victories. Branch Rickey, father of baseball's farm system, played 119 games in the major leagues and batted .239. He was a catcher.

Rain Might Have Helped Non-Supporter

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. June 21 (AP)—It would have been better for William D. Fitch, star shortstop for the Battle Creek Elks baseball team, if the game with the Emmerson Truck and Storage nine had been rained out.

Fitch, 27, is in jail today awaiting trial on a nonsupport charge. Police had been seeking Fitch when he appeared for the Emmerson game Wednesday.

Fitch looked at the Emmerson squad. He thought he recognized the player. The Emmerson team, composed of state and local police, recognized Fitch.

Before taking the shortstop to jail, police allowed him to complete the game, a scoreless tie, after Fitch's teammates protested his arrest would leave them with only eight players.

Quartet Hosts Rehearsal Supper For Parsons-Layton Entourage Friday Night At The Lotus Club

Decked with Magnolia boughs, the Lotus Club made a handsome setting Friday night for the rehearsal supper of the Joseph Parsons II - Miss Carol Layton wedding entourage.

Mrs. Frank Stubbs with Dr. Charles Stubbs were hosts for the affair, honoring the popular young couple.

The buffet decorations highlighted the dining room. Large white wedding bells, tied with valley lilies, nestled in gardenias and were encircled by linked golden wedding bands. From the central group, sprays of gardenias extended down the length of the buffet to end in clusters bearing small replicas of the bells.

Receiving with the hostesses, Miss Layton wore a periwinkle-blue chiffon, fashioned on Empire lines with a waltz-length skirt and wore gardenias in her hair.

Sixty guests were present and included the wedding party, out of town guests and members of both families.

Oak Ridge Caddoan Club President Names Officers And Chairmen

Mrs. Clark Williams, elected president of the Caddoan Club of Oak Ridge for the 1957-58 term, has announced her associate officers and the department and division chairmen.

Elected to serve as vice-president was Mrs. Jo Cabuck. Mrs. W. N. Fitch was selected for the post of recording secretary. Corresponding secretary will be

Goodwill HD Club Awards Prizes For Dress Design

The regular meeting of the Goodwill Home Demonstration Club was held in the home of Mrs. H. Shockley.

The scripture and devotion were given by Mrs. E. L. Tarver. A lesson on "Tailored Pockets and Round Button Holes," followed with Mrs. Opal Winger and Mrs. Shockley in charge. Leaflets on gardening, nutrition, landscaping and poultry were then read to the members.

Mrs. J. V. Bennett and Mrs. J. H. Crews won prizes for making the best dresses.

A social hour was enjoyed by seven members present: Mrs. James Crews, Mrs. Harvey Crews, Mrs. James Payne, Mrs. E. L. Tarver, Jr., Mrs. J. V. Bennett, Mrs. E. L. Tarver, and Mrs. Opal Winger.

Altrusa Club Installation Dinner At Country Club

Highlighting the month of June for members of Altrusa Executive and Professional Women's Club was the Installation Dinner at the Bayou DeSiard Country Club Thursday evening.

White magnolias and gardenias were used in various arrangements in the reception room where the hostesses, Mrs. Adrienne Carr, Mrs. Thelma Bond, Mrs. Erlene Adams and Miss Mary Benoit welcomed the members and guests.

A large white compote overflowing with blue carnations and a white fern with the letters A L T R U S A centered the linen draped table. Smaller arrangements of blue carnations and crisp white fern with lighted white tapers completed the blue and white effect.

Following the dinner, Mrs. Erlene Adams and Mrs. Thelma Bond, past presidents, addressed the outgoing officers and commended them for their work.

Installing officer for the candlelight ceremony was Mrs. Adrienne Carr, past president and Past District 1st Vice Governor and Miss Mary Benoit. Officers installed and presented with a blue carnation corsage in the shape of an

WHY GROW OLD

Styles Dictate—So We Must Have Flat Backs

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

For some time now the feminine back has been exposed to view in all sorts of clothes besides swim suits. Many dresses for morning, afternoon and evening, outfits for all occasions are backless or practically so. It seems that clothes have gone as far down in front as possible and now are taking it out on the back.

These styles call for a flat back, without "wings." If you have allowed yourself to slump it will take constant thought and exercise on your part to improve the condition. If you are middle-aged or near it, more time will be required for your improvement than with much younger women.

The following is an effective exercise. Bend your elbows and raise your arms up in front of your shoulder height. Fingers of the hands point toward one another but do not touch. Keep the arms in this position as you circle backward with the elbows. Pull as far back as you can. Do not let the head protrude forward.

Another

Here is another one: lie on the floor on your back with your arms extended straight out from the shoulder pits, palms toward the ceiling. The legs are straight. Lift the shoulders from the floor as you roll your head backward. Hands, hips and legs remain on the floor. Hold while you count to six or eight slowly. Return shoulders to the floor and head to normal position. Continue.

It really pays to correct defects in posture. The simplest, least expensive gown, takes on an important air when your carriage is gallant, while the most expensive one loses its punch if your posture is poor. If you have plenty of

Jaycees-Jaynes Installation At Oak Grove

OAK GROVE — The Junior Chamber of Commerce, popularly called "Jaycees," and its auxiliary, Jaynes, held joint installation services this week at the American Legion hut in Lake Providence.

Mrs. Charles Elkins of Rayville, was guest speaker for the occasion and installed the officer for the Jaynes as follows: President - Mrs. Arzell Jones, First vice - president Mrs. Charlott Hamilton, Second vice - president Mrs. Edith Deal, Sec'y. - Mrs. Elvyn Dumas, Publicity chairman - Mrs. Fay Sander, Parliamentarian - Mrs. Betty Waters.

money it is a shame to waste good clothes on slumping posture. If your income is modest, you can't afford anything but the best in physical alignment.

JACKET DRESS ADDS SUMMER GLAMOR—A stunning number bubbling over with gay, summery color and saucy details is this jacket dress. The tiny jacket is of butcher-weave rayon, has three-quarter sleeves and a little Peter Pan collar! It can be slipped off to reveal a cool sleeveless dress of embossed cotton splashed with a bright abstract print. It has a low, fitted waistline and billowy bouffant skirt.

After Four Years Father Returns For Child Who Prefers Grandmother

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann: My daughter was 18 when she married a boy the same age. They lived together 13 months and had a baby girl. When the child was three months old they separated. My daughter went to work and her husband joined the National Guard and went overseas. The baby was turned over to me and my daughter never paid any attention to her.

Four years passed and the baby's father returned. He started to date my daughter again and they were remarried. Now they have two little boys and want to take the girl away from me.

The child has never known any mother but me Ann. She's just like my own baby and it would break my heart to give her up. She prefers me to her mother and keeps telling me she wants to stay here. Please tell me what to do. I want to do what is best for everyone. I need your help. — D. W. M.

Give this child to her mother. It may be difficult but it's the moral and just thing to do.

Your daughter was mighty fortunate to have had a mother who gave her baby love and care in those early years when the child meant nothing to her. Apparently she has matured and now wants to accept her responsibilities.

You should not deprive this child of her natural mother and father if they want to take her into their home. The youngster will miss you for a while but she'll adjust to her new surroundings. Let her go—with your blessings and do everything you can to make the transition an easy one.

Dear Ann: I've made a mess out of five lives and I need some help. I'll skip my personal history and get to the point.

I started to go with a man I knew very well was married and had three children. He spent money on me that his family needed to pay rent and buy groceries. I was with him every spare minute and he went home only to change clothes. I used his name and my neighbors thought we were married.

I don't know what happened—maybe he got tired of me—but anyway he went back to his wife and family. I can't sleep nights thinking of the wrong I have done. I'm not in love with him and don't want to see him again but in my work I run into him every day and I feel rotten.

Do you think I could get it off my mind if I went to see his wife and begged her to forgive me? I will do whatever you say. Please help me. I'll be watching the papers every day. — Tex's Ex.

Stay away from this woman. You've caused her enough heartache. Putting her through the ordeal of talking about this affair may sooth your conscience but it won't do her any good.

Change jobs so you won't "run into" this man every day. If you can leave town so much the better. Put this experience out of your thoughts by getting busy with other things. Beating yourself over the head about the past is useless.

Tea On Birthday Is Held Honoring Mrs. McIntosh

Approximately one hundred guests called to wish Mrs. J. R. McIntosh a "Happy Birthday" this week when a tea was given her honor.

The tea was in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mac McIntosh with Mrs. D. M. McIntosh and Mrs. J. B. McIntosh as hostesses.

Upon arrival, the honoree was presented with an orchid corsage. She chose a dress of pink silk for the occasion.

In the receiving line with the honoree and the hostesses, was Mrs. John Robert Lancaster and Mrs. John Hester. Registering the guests was Mrs. J. D. McIntosh.

The home was decorated with green and yellow. Gladioli brightened the living room, while the buffet held an arrangement of carnations and candles. A bouquet of chrysanthemums and fern centered the white covered dining table. The punch bowl and cake were on either end of the table.

In charge of the serving courtesies were, Mrs. Sam McIntosh, Mrs. J. V. Sims, Mrs. D. M. McIntosh, Mrs. John Brown McIntosh, and Mrs. Mack McIntosh.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Tips On Handling Child's Rebellion At Feeding, Bedtime

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Hehe are two mothers of 26-months-old children both with bad habits the mothers do not know how to break. I suspect strongly, since both letters are in the same handwriting and come from the same city, that this is just one child.

One letter said, "My son at 26 months, still takes milk by bottle. I keep one full in the refrigerator and he gets it when he wants it and then lies down on the floor with it to watch TV. It does not spoil his appetite for his meals."

"I have thought of throwing away his bottles, or should I just wait until he gives it up? I am afraid of depriving him of something he enjoys so much."

Sleeps With Mother

The second letter said her 26-months-old boy used to cry so much in the night that she finally took him into bed with her.

"As long as he is in my bed he sleeps straight through the night."

"Some months ago I tried putting him in his bed again and he would sleep a couple of hours and wake and cry again. I gave up and took him back in my bed again."

"I am beginning to wonder how and when I'll ever get him back into his own room. I'll appreciate your advice."

But maybe you won't like it. Whether these are two children or the same boy the habits have one common factor. The boy is doing exactly what he wants to do without regard to your comfort, convenience, or his own welfare.

If you would like our 10-cent booklet "Obedience and Punishment," send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

CARLOAD SALE—York Room Conditioners!

Through special arrangements with York Corporation, we bought a solid carload of York units at tremendous price reductions. During this weekend we will pass these savings on to you. Shipment includes all sizes— from 3/4 - ton to 2-ton.

Regardless of Price or Terms Required,

BALLARD'S WILL SELL 100 YORK UNITS This Weekend

NOW! You Can Buy York Quality at "Cheap Unit" Prices

SERVICE

There's nothing you can buy for which service is more important than an air conditioning unit. We feel that one of our greatest assets in the tremendous growth we've enjoyed is the service we give our customers. We started with York years ago—we're still York today. Look around you at dealers who change brands from year to year and claim no responsibility for service for brands they previously sold. Don't get left holding the bag. There's nothing more irritating than having an air conditioning unit that won't work and not being able to get service.

BEWARE of WHOLESALE

We take our hat off to people who can "get it wholesale" on many items, but it's a risky thing to buy an air conditioner wholesale. Ask your neighbor or friend who did so and had to wait several weeks for parts or maybe had to ship his unit back to the factory for repair. As low as our prices are now you're buying it almost wholesale anyway, and you still get service.

PLUG IN MODELS—3/4 HP and 1 HP.

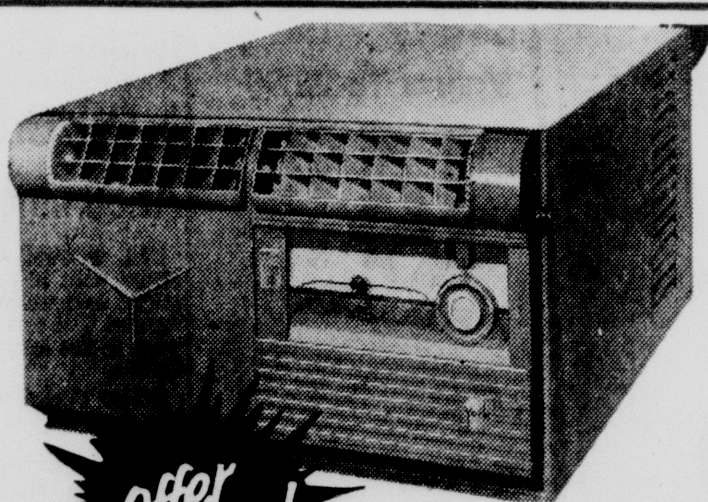

We have York 3/4 h.p. and 1 h.p. which can be run on regular aluacs with no special wiring required. To make sure your circuits have enough capacity to carry the extra load, we have a special load tester with which we'll make a free check for you.

Police Piece Together Clues In Okla. Murder

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP)—Police today continued to piece together clues in the "black scarf" murder of a 40-year-old drugstore cosmetics saleswoman who was described by associates as quiet and friendly but had few dates.

First Royalty Check Being Held By State

BATON ROUGE June 21 UP—An oil land royalty check, the first of its kind, was held by the Louisiana land office today for delivery to a special escrow fund pending a decision on the tidelands dispute between the state and the federal government.

Miss Lucille May Grace, the register of state lands, said the check for $36,113.50 came from the Cities Service Oil Co. and Skelly Oil Co., and is a rental payment on a 1,250-acre tract directly south of Breton Island off the coast of Plaquemines parish.

It is being held by the land office pending technical clearance between the register and the attorney general's office and will go to the state treasurer to be placed in escrow.

Await Court Ruling

Final disposition of the money depends upon the Supreme court's ruling on whether the state or the federal government own the area in the Gulf of Mexico off the coast of Louisiana between three miles and three leagues.

That decision may come Monday on the court's last "reading day" until next fall.

Eight-hundred-eighty acres of the tract lie in the disputed area, with the other 370 acres within three miles of the Louisiana coast and admittedly owned by the state.

The payment this year is to go into escrow under an agreement between the state and the federal government signed Oct. 12, 1956. It provides rentals and royalties from tracts in the three-mile three-league area will be held in escrow until final decision of the tidelands dispute. Approximately $90 million is being held by the federal government under that agreement.

New Wells

If the check is accepted by the state, it will authorize the companies to drill new wells in the 880 acres under dispute.

Future royalties and rentals from the lease will also go into the escrow fund.

The tract was leased by the two oil companies May 19, 1955, and they paid $36,113.50 in rental last year. That payment, however, was before the agreement setting up the escrow fund and went directly to the state general fund.

$3,086 Awarded

Carrier F. D. R.
Heads Again For Drydock Repair

SACRAMENTO, Calif., June 21 (AP)—An idea that earned California $38,191 brought the highest suggestion award ever given to a state employee to Mrs. Gladys M. Burrows of the Board of Equalization.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. June 21 (UP) — The 45,000-ton carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, damaged by a pump room explosion which killed two seamen and injured five others, today headed for drydock for a second time in six weeks.

Gov. Goodwin night presented her with the $3,086 award yesterday.

The FDR was scheduled to leave the Mayport, Fla., carrier basin about noon for Norfolk, Va., where it underwent drydock repairs late in May after an undrsea object damaged propeller gear in the Atlantic.

A Navy board announced Thursday that it had not been able to determine the cause of the explosion which occurred off the Florida coast two days ago but said the damage was found too extensive to repair aloft.

The board will reconvene at Norfolk for further study, the Navy said, and the FDR will be ready to return to Jacksonville in about three weeks.

The explosion took the lives of Boiler Tender 3-C Bobby E. Hyder, 22, of Spartanburg, S.C., and Fireman Sidney R. Wall, 27, of Norwood, N.C.

Fireman Apprentice Robert J. Radde, 19, of Everett, Wash., was still in critical condition early today and Boiler Tender Richard M. Haigh of Westinghouse, S. D., was reported in serious condition.

Fireman Apprentice Philip R. Plantier, 19, of Wauregan, Conn., Boiler Tender Fireman Donald E. Brockman, 20, of Ringgold, Ga., and Lt. Donald Smith of Sharon, Mass., were reported in less serious condition.

Pocket Books Sales Curb Library Use

CHICAGO (AP)—Nearly a quarter of a billion books with paper covers were sold in the United States last year.

Dan Lacy, managing director of the American Book Publishers Council, told a national meeting of librarians yesterday this is one reason the demand for fiction in libraries has fallen off.

He likened the trend to paper cover books to the advent of frozen foods in the food industry. Many people prefer paying the higher costs of buying such books to the inconvenience of procuring and returning books at a library, he said.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Quotes In The News

By UNITED PRESS
WASHINGTON—Christina Wenerstrom, the 16-year-old daughter of a Swedish diplomat who ran off to Canada with her Senate page boy sweetheart:

"We did not want to lose each other. I told him all the trouble he would get into, but he said, 'Oh, it doesn't matter.'"

FARGO, N.D. — The Rev. Karl Schraeder, a Lutheran minister on the destruction of a Roman Catholic convent by a tornado: "It was a weird scene. Several nuns came out of the wrecked building carrying injured and holding them until the arrival of ambulances."

VIENNA—U.S. air attache Welwyn F. Dallam, on his expulsion by the Communist Hungarian puppet government for photographing military objects:

"I cannot say much on the Hungarian charges presently. In any case, they are ridiculous."

MANORVILLE, N.Y. — Dr. Joseph Kris, on a $1,500 bill for administering to 7-year-old Benny Hooper, who was rescued after nearly 24 hours at the bottom of a well shaft:

"My time is worth about $30 an hour. It's like the old cartoon: A doctor is an angel when he's performing his services, but a devil when he sends the bill."

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower, cautioning young Republicans against pessimism in their future political battles:

"No pessimistic general ever won a battle. There is enough pessimism in fights without the leader showing it."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Photographer Is Upheld In Taking Of Court Pictures

RAYMOND, Miss. June 21 (AP)—Rep. John Bell Williams (D-Miss.) said today his investigation shows that news photographer W. C. Shoemaker had a right to take a picture in a public corridor of the federal building here recently. The Jackson Daily News staff member's camera was seized by federal authorities after he took a picture of Hodding Carter, publisher of the Greenville Delta Democrat-Times. Carter had just left a room where he testified before a federal grand jury. The camera was returned after a protest by Editor Frederick Sullens of the Daily News.

Cotton

NEW YORK

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Cotton futures were higher today in slow dealing.

Approval of marketing quotas for 1958 by wheat farmers brought buying into distant cotton futures on the idea that cotton farmers would also approve quotas for their crop in 1958.

Higher loan ideas induced buying in 1957 crop futures. Hedging was concentrated largely in near by October and December.

Liquidation of old crop July continued in a limited way, anticipating first notice day next Monday.

Late afternoon prices were unchanged to 95 cents a bale higher than the previous close, July 35.32, Oct. 34.70 and Dec. 34.62.

Futures closed 10 cents a bale lower to $1.90 higher than the previous close.

Only aircrafts bucked the trend among the major stock market divisions. They were helped by the news that the United Nations would bolster its armed forces in Korea with more modern weapons.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.00 to $181.40, putting it below the old January highs for the first time since May 7. The industrial component fell $1.90, the rails 70 cents and the utilities 20 cents.

In a comparatively narrow market of 1,150 issues traded there were 648 losers and 261 gainers. New lows for the year totaled 103 and new highs only 10.

Corporate bonds were steady in moderately active trading. U.S. government bonds were mixed in light dealings over the counter.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS NEW YORK

Stocks—Lower; decline continues. Bonds—Mixed; corporates lower. Cotton—Higher; slow dealings.

Wheat—Strong; farmers approve quotas.

Corn—Strong with wheat. Oats—Strong with wheat. Soybeans—Higher; expect permission to export surplus.

Hogs—Steady to mostly 25 cents higher; practical top $20.00.

Cattle—Nominally steady; not enough to test prices. Live Poultry—Steady; wholesale buying prices unchanged.

Eggs—Irregular; wholesale buying prices unchanged to 1 lower.

Buying was again general as many months established a great deal of resiliency in that volume declines when prices are easy and trading increases substantially on advances. New Orleans interests were again the formidable buyers in new July and new October as those months advanced 30 to 36 points respectively. Buying touched off some stop orders and offerings remained relatively light. There was no obvious news to account for the strength other than possibly the passage of the public law 480 funds bill which had been generally anticipated.

The House tentatively authorized Commodity Credit Corporation to donate surplus raw cotton for the manufacture of various materials for needy persons. There has been publicity to the effect that the boll weevil threat is substantially more serious this year as a result of the spring rains.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

C. R. Smith, president American Airlines, has filed a statement with the CAB proposing that board promptly permit the carriers to cut or eliminate fare discounts.

The government granted the Ramo - Wooldridge Corporation a fast writoff certificate on a new $13,418,872 research and development facility.

U. S. Court of Appeals in Washington ruled FCC can authorize Niagara Falls power development despite a 1950 treaty provision reserving this authority for Congress.

General Motors will market its Europe built Vauxhall and Opel cars in the U. S. next September. They're expected to be priced below GM's Chevrolet line.

Outboard Marine of Canada, Ltd., will construct a $900,000 plant in Bruges, Belgium, for the manufacture of Evinrude and Johnson outboard motors.

Allison Division of GM has been awarded an Air Force contract for $13,456,805. Air Materiel Command announced. The contract covers propellers and components.

The Air Force has decided that fewer production facilities will be needed in the future and, meanwhile, that suppliers must trim overtime and take further steps to help enable the Air Force to hold spending down.

Sales and earnings of General Dynamics Corporation in 1957 will increase substantially over 1956. Frank Pace, Jr., president told New York secretary of security analysts. He would not specify how great increases would be.

Chrysler Corporation's Dodge and DeSoto divisions scheduled cutbacks in production in a move to balance dealer inventories. DeSoto will suspend auto production for two weeks, starting Monday.

Effective July 8, Dodge will adjust output at the Detroit plant. A $1,500,000 plant in Ballarat, Australia will be constructed by Timken Roller Bearing to produce bearings for sale in Australia, New Zealand, and the Far East.

Prices held within a fairly narrow range throughout the day closing near the day's best about unchanged on balance. There was no particular feature as the trade was operating on both sides with little commission house interest. Trading was relatively light in contrast to London futures market. London futures closed 1 to 1 1/2 pence lower in good volume on a fair amount of Bradford and continental hedge selling. The heavy offerings at the Australian auction centers next week of 128,000 bales part of which comprise irregular wools, was mentioned as a bearish factor. The Australian wool clip this year was estimated at 4,600,000 bales, approximately a million bales higher than the previous year's production. An Australian official stated that he expected next seasons wool clip to be smaller than this year's with the drought contributing to the smaller clip.
